

The Henley Naturals Collection

The Henley Naturals Collection of upholstery fabrics features soft plains to create the ideal foundation for any interior look. Whether used on their own for a calm, understated look or layered with bolder designs, textiles from The Henley Naturals Collection add a touch of timeless ease to living spaces.

All our fabrics comply with South African National Standards (SABS/SANS) testing, with a minimum abrasion resistance of 25,000–70 000 rubs. (Refer to sampling for specific colourway rubs).

Each design combines natural and synthetic fibres to deliver excellent durability for domestic, hospitality, and workspace applications. They are manufactured primarily with man-made fibres such as Polyester, Olefin, and Acrylic, blended with natural fibres like Cotton.

For added functionality, the ranges can be treated with CedarGuard, a water-, soil-, and oil-repellent finish—making them ideal for high-traffic areas in offices, commercial spaces, and hospitality environments.

The fabrics are produced at an average width of 140 cm. In line with SABS specifications, upholstery fabrics require a minimum seam allowance of 15 mm, with 4–5 stitches per cm.
